

Truck Drivers for Nordrhein-Westfalen

New life with or without family in Lower Rhine and Western Münsterland

Due to innovations in the transport business, the general economic development in Europe and the goal of reducing pollution and family frictions, Germany opens the transport market for serious truck drivers and their families. Spelleken Assoc. is a development agency specialized in sustainable migration. For the sustainability and human profile of the entire program, the truck drivers should come from South-Eastern-Europe and should bring an international driver's license, the capability to drive international TIR and the ADR-certificate. The package of incentives includes the following components:

1. Non determined long term employment contract with equal pay like German drivers
2. Residency with housing in the above mentioned region (no shuttling)
3. Ready-made housing solutions under the responsibility of the employer or Spelleken Assoc. (against modest fees)
4. Bilateral projects for the cooperation between countries with the choice to make a carrier in Germany and to return to South-East Europe, later.

Nordrhein-Westfalen (NRW) is the industrial core of Germany with an open-minded, modern profile and diversity of social life. his program is supported by the training centre of the logistical association www.bvwl.de and by the investment and business promotion of the Borken county <http://www.wfg-borken.de>
